MESSAGE FROM:

Senate President Arnold Maltz

More Info

Welcome to the 2017-18 academic year. The Senate has been busy over the summer and we have a number of worthwhile projects started, and anticipate many more. The Campus presidents are currently researching open access, academic freedom, shared governance, and student success topics. We are looking forward to helping the University Academic Integrity task force implement new programs on a university-wide basis. We are chartering a task force to review our online programs in the hopes of helping the institution continue to be a leader in this realm. The Personnel Committee will continue its work relative to salary and benefit issues, Curriculum and Academic Programs will be processing new program requests, Student/Faculty Policy will finish up discussions on summer school teaching, and Research and Creative Activities will continue to interface with OKED.

None of this really works without your support. Please support your Senators as we continue shared governance at Arizona State University.
