As a member of the University Senate, it is important for you to represent the interests of your academic unit. It is however, equally important to understand that issues and topics reviewed by the Senate require a big picture perspective of the entire university.
There will be times when making decisions from this paradigm will be challenging. It will be at these moments when all members of the Senate will rely on the collegiality and professionalism that is the hallmark of shared governance at Arizona State University to continue to efficiently and effectively represent your constituents.
What does the Senate do?

The Senate assists in the development and review of policy relating to all facets of the university. The University Senate has the power* to act for the Academic Assembly in areas such as: academic affairs, personnel affairs, faculty-student policies, financial affairs and university services and facilities.

- The senate also works diligently to enhance the reputation of the university as well as communicate the outstanding accomplishments of our faculty and academic professionals.

*ABOR Policy 6-201 and A.R.S. §15-1601
Who runs the University Senate?

- University Senate President
- University Academic Council
- Senate Executive Committee
- University Senate Office Staff

What is the University Academic Council? (UAC)

The UAC is the leadership arm of the University Senate, and is composed of the President, President-elect & Past Presidents of all four campuses. The chair of the UAC is the University Senate President. The UAC meets monthly with a primary task being discussion, delegation, implementation of Senate issues and strategic planning.
What is the Executive Committee?

The Executive Committee is composed of the UAC members, and also the chairs of each of the Senate standing committees. The Executive Committee meets once per month with its primary responsibility being to set the agenda for the next Senate meeting.

When do I start, and how long is my term?

• Your term begins on June 1, but your first Senate meeting will not be until August 28, 2017. Your term ends on May 31\textsuperscript{st}, three years after your start date.

• Each semester is kicked off with an Academic Assembly Reception (fall-8-22-2017 and spring-1-23-2018). Invitations with exact times and locations will be sent out for this event.

• The first Senate meeting you will attend is on August 28, 2017 at 3:00pm.

Where are the meetings held?

Senate meetings are video conferenced and you may attend them at any of the locations noted below. If you intend to permanently attend Senate meetings at a location other than your home campus, please notify your campus president and Pam Hoyle in the Senate office. Parking for Senate meetings is the responsibility of each Senator.

The 2015-16 meeting rooms are:

- Downtown Senators: UCENT 317
- Polytechnic Senators: PICHO 155
- Tempe Senators: EDC 117
- West Senators: FAB S101

The Senate agenda is posted 6 days prior to the meeting and a reminder e-mail is sent to all Senators. Agendas will not be provided at meetings. Please bring a computer or print them in advance.

Senate meetings start promptly at 3:00pm
What if I need to miss a meeting?

Attendance at Senate meetings is critical to the success of the organization, a quorum of 50% +1 is required in order to conduct business. Three unexcused absences can result in removal from the Senate.

- If you need to miss a single meeting: locate a replacement, and notify Pam Hoyle prior to the Senate meeting.
  - Pam Hoyle at pamela.hoyle@asu.edu
- If you miss a meeting you must review the minutes for any important announcement or action items.
- If you are going on sabbatical: request your unit to elect/assign a replacement, and then notify the Senate office.
  - Pam Hoyle at pamela.hoyle@asu.edu
What is my role as a Senator?

• Listen and talk to individuals within your academic unit. Communicate important issues and information both from your unit to the Senate and also from the Senate back to your unit.
• Attend monthly Senate meetings held on your campus, making sure to sign in at each meeting.
• If selected, serve on one of the Senate standing committees. All committee assignments will be ratified by the Senate in late August.
• Develop or secure an e-mail distribution list of faculty and academic professionals within your unit to facilitate communication.
My Senate role (cont’d)

• Review all new course proposals that might impact your particular unit/school/college.
• Review policy motions that come through the Senate (see next slides).
• Attend and promote attendance at the Academic Assembly meeting held each semester.
• Encourage colleagues to visit the University Senate website to stay informed. University Senate Website
Once I arrive at a Senate meeting
...What do I do?

- Find a seat in the meeting room
  - Tempe Senators (seating chart will be provided)
  - Poly, West & Downtown (open seating)

- If in Tempe, sit in front of the name plate provided to you and sign in on the roster sheet that is passed around after the meeting begins.
- At West, Poly and Downtown, make sure to sign the attendance sheet and pickup your name plate when you enter the room.
- Make sure you have a clicker but do not push the clicker buttons, they don’t look turned on, but they are.
How do I vote?

Voting is done by using the clicker located next to your sign placard.

Do Not Vote Until the Question has been Presented on the Screen

Follow the instructions on the video screen at your meeting. (Typically)

- Press 1/A for Yes “in favor”
- Press 2/B for No “oppose”
- Press 3/C for “abstain”

You may change your vote anytime prior to the voting question being closed…the last vote will be the only one that registers.

If you have clicker problems, see your UTO rep, Chuck Barbee or Pam Hoyle
Who runs the Senate meetings?

- The Senate meetings are run by the University Senate President. He/she is assisted by the campus Presidents, Parliamentarian, Senate Secretary, and the Senate office staff.
- Topics for discussion, and meeting agenda items are developed from Senate input, and finalized by the University Academic Council (UAC) and the Executive Committee. Agendas are typically posted on the Senate Website and provided to Senators 6-7 days prior to each meeting.

Click here to see a sample agenda
How do I speak at a Senate meeting?

- Discussion at Senate meetings is encouraged.
- The Senate adheres to Roberts Rules of Order for discussion and conducting business.
- There are two typical occasions for speaking at a meeting: After the presentation of a motion and during the open forum.
- If in Tempe, approach the microphone in the center aisle, and wait to be acknowledged by the President/Chair.
- If at Poly, West or Downtown, notify your campus President.

Before speaking, please state your name and unit.
Additional Senate Meeting Points

• Please be on time so meetings can start promptly and we are assured of having a quorum.
• Speakers must utilize a microphone so they may be heard by all of the campus locations.
• Side conversations are disruptive and should be minimized.
• All speakers must state their name and unit prior to addressing the Senate members.
• All Senators should sign the attendance sheet at each meeting.
How do I get on one of the Senate standing committees?

• The Committee on Committees will issue a preference survey to all senators in August. This survey will ask you to indicate which committees you are most willing to serve on.
• After the survey is complete the Committee on Committee evaluates preferences and develops a slate to fill all vacancies.
• If you are selected for a committee, you will be notified via e-mail.
• Senators who are not placed on a committee are on standby and used as needed.
• There are also task forces, and special projects that a senator might be asked to serve on as well.
What does the Senate office do?

• Under the direction of the Senate President, the Senate Office is run by the Director-Chuck Barbee.
• The Senate office is located on the Tempe Campus in Interdisciplinary B, Room 361, but services Senate business on all campuses.
• Administrative support is provided by Chuck Barbee and Pam Hoyle.
• The Senate office coordinates all meetings, committees and task forces, and works closely with the Senate leadership team, and committee chairs on all University Senate business.

Processing Request for Consultation

Guided by the University Senate Constitution (ACD 112-01) and the Senate Office Procedures and Protocol Manual
What is a Request for Consultation (RFC)

A RFC is a request made by any individual, unit, college, school, administration or organization that would like (or is required) to secure input from the faculty and/or academic professional’s perspective to aid in decision-making and policy development.
How do I submit a RFC

There are several ways you can present an issue for consideration:

• Bring the point up for discussion during the open forum of a Senate meeting.
• Discuss the issue with the Senate President.
• Discuss the issue with your campus President.
• Discuss the issue with any UAC member.
• Contact the University Senate office director.
Request for Consultation (RFC)

Examples

Administrative requests: search committee representation, summer UAC work, faculty governance interpretations, ACD policy change requests, RSP policy change reviews, and other faculty related policy changes.

College/School/Unit requests: curricular changes or modifications, new course proposals, Policy review requests, request for ideas on how to incorporate shared governance concepts within the organization, etc.

Constituent requests: problem resolution, university-wide service resolution, etc.

University committee requests: faculty interpretations and feedback on topics, faculty representation on task forces and ad-hoc committees, consideration for new policies etc.

Student requests: faculty requests for input, joint student-faculty proposals, etc.
How are request for consultations processed?

Consultatively
- Handled by the Senate President, UAC, Senate office staff or one of the Senate committees by working directly with the area/person submitting the RFC
- Can sometimes develop into a formal Senate motion
- Outcomes announced at Senate meetings and logged in the Senate office RFC log

Formally
- Handled within one of the Senate committees, or task forces.
- Results in the development of a Senate motion
- Voted on by all Senators
- Motion and outcomes posted on the Senate website
- Motion transmitted to the Provost for review and/or approval

Formal Process Diagram
Typical procedure for formal Senate motions

Most all formal items that come to the Senate for review and vote will follow this process.

- Item is placed on the agenda for a 1\textsuperscript{st} reading (new business). First readings are public announcement of a proposed action, very little Senate meeting discussion occurs at this time.

- In between the 1\textsuperscript{st} and 2\textsuperscript{nd} Senate meeting, discussion, feedback, and edits/amendments can occur on a motion.

- Item is placed on the next Senate meeting agenda as a 2\textsuperscript{nd} reading (old business). At the 2\textsuperscript{nd} reading, edits/amendments are presented, and any remaining discussion or additional edits/amendments occur.
Continued

• After discussion has concluded the President calls for a vote on the motion.
• Approved motions are transmitted to the Provost of the University and/or the office of General Counsel review and implementation consideration.
• If approved by the Provost or President the policy is placed in the appropriate manual and/or the recommendation is implemented.
Formal Senate process for new course proposals

In order to help expedite the process, new course proposals will never show up on the agenda as a 1\textsuperscript{st} read. All new courses receive an electronic 1\textsuperscript{st} read, and are then placed on the next Senate meeting agenda as a 2\textsuperscript{nd} reading under old business.

Here’s how it works

Two weeks prior to each Senate meeting you will receive an e-mail with a hyperlink to a Senate motion that contains a list of all the new course proposals for the month. The courses contained in this motion need to be reviewed* within the two week window before the next Senate meeting.

*Questions, feedback or concerns with any proposed new course are to be sent to the CAPC subcommittee on new course proposals POC, which will be indicated in the e-mail when the course list is provided to you.
Reviewing new course proposals

In the fall semester of 2013 an ad-hoc committee was developed to review the new course proposal review process. This committee was charged with reviewing existing practices and implementing new practices that would balance the faculty’s purview over curriculum and academic quality, with the institutional need to process new course proposals in a timely manner.
Tips for reviewing new course proposals

• Typically you will look most closely at courses that are similar to courses offered in your home unit so that we might identify cross college redundancies that were not identified earlier in the process.

• You may also review course objectives, impact statements and other comments and paperwork presented by administration and/or college and unit level curriculum committees by logging into Curriculum ChangeMaker.

Curriculum ChangeMaker Instructions are on the following slides

If you are unable to login, please contact Pam Hoyle at Pamela.Hoyle@asu.edu
Voting on New Course Proposals

All new course proposals will come up for a vote at the 2nd reading as part of a consent agenda. If there is a new course proposal issue that has not been resolved during the 2 week review period, any Senator may request that the course be removed from the consent agenda. Having been removed from the consent agenda, this course can now be discussed in detail and voted on separate from the others.

The next few slides outline how to go into Curriculum ChangeMaker and review new course proposals.
